Special Issue – NSW – Primary/named beneficiaries who are foreign
The NSW Chief Commissioner in Revenue NSW's practice note CPN 004 v2 states that, should a trust contain named or specified beneficiaries that are foreign persons, the Chief Commissioner will usually require that such beneficiaries are specifically removed from the trust as beneficiaries and if the named foreign beneficiaries are not removed, the trustee will generally be liable for foreign surcharges. The practice note states that: 'It is generally not sufficient that named beneficiaries are merely prevented from receiving distributions, e.g. through a general clause excluding foreign persons from receiving distributions. This is because the named beneficiaries might have the power to appoint a new Appointer or appoint or remove trustees and the trust may still be capable of amendment in a manner that would result in a foreign person being a potential beneficiary.' Accordingly, if any of the primary/named beneficiaries of the trust are 'foreign' persons we recommend that you consider specifically varying the trust deed to remove their name. While this type of change in beneficiaries may give rise to resettlement risks, Revenue NSW provides some guidance on this issue in DUT 017v2. The Federal Tax Commissioner provides guidance on resettlements in TD 2012/21 Specific duty and tax law advice should be sought before proceeding. If you consider one of the primary/named beneficiaries is 'foreign' please contact us to discuss.

For order 8: Documents to appoint or change a Successor Appointor nomination

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

The standard successor appointor documents we prepare will provide that the nominated successor appointor will step into that role:

1. where one current appointor is nominating their own separate successor, upon the cessation of their role of appointor of the trust in accordance with the terms of the trust; or
2. where two appointors are jointly nominating one or two successors, upon the cessation of the last of the nominating current appointors from their role of appointor of the trust in accordance with the terms of the trust.

It is important that you review the terms of the trust to ensure you understand the events upon which an appointor's role will cease (eg, upon death, loss of capacity or resignation). If the current terms of the trust do not coincide with your intentions, the terms of the trust may have to be changed or tailored successor nomination documents may be appropriate.

Further, where a successor appointor is nominated in the deed itself, you may need to vary the terms of the trust to remove such a nomination. If the trust deed provides for a successor appointor, please contact us to discuss.

If you require any advice or input on reviewing the terms of the trust to ensure they meet your requirements, please contact us to discuss.
