Additional State and Territory taxes — foreign beneficiaries

Additional duty and land tax may be payable by a trustee in respect of real property and certain other dutiable property in most States and Territories in Australia. This primarily applies to residential property.

To minimise this risk, DBA Lawyers' trust deed can be specifically drafted to exclude 'foreign beneficiaries'.

If you want to distribute to foreign beneficiaries, we recommend that you first obtain advice before ordering.

We can then prepare a deed tailored to your specifications for an additional fee. Naturally, please let us know if you require any advice as it is vital that the right deed be obtained from the commencement of a trust.

Please note that once a deed is executed, it is difficult and costly to vary.

APPOINTOR

Please enter the details of each appointor. The appointor holds the ultimate control over the trust (eg, appointing and removing the trustee).

A2	Full name:	T2? <input type="checkbox"/>

SETTLOR

The settlor is the person who creates the trust by placing the first sum (eg, $10) on trust and has no further role or benefit in the trust. The settlor cannot benefit under the trust and should not be related to the beneficiaries.

S1	Full name:
	Residential address:

The settlor should be a person genuinely interested in the well-being of the beneficiaries and who desires to settle a trust in favour of the beneficiaries. Ideally, the settlor should not be an accountant or financial planner who is remunerated by the beneficiaries. The settlor should never be reimbursed or refunded the settled sum.
